Hello Everyone,

Next week we get a few days off to celebrate one of our great holidays. As Americans, our culture has a history of wanting more. More accurately what we say is we "need" more. It doesn't matter what it is as long as we have the newest, the largest, the one with more bells and whistles. Thanksgiving is great for those folks who do take a moment to look around and be thankful for what we have. When we do that, we see that it is not any of those material things. What is important is always about people. I am thankful for my wonderful family and also the smiling faces of the people I see everyday here at PCS. Don't worry about acquiring more material things. They won't make you any happier. Your friends and relatives, that is where your true happiness comes from. Have a great weekend!

-Allen Cole

-Special thanks to grades 7 & 8, Ms. Volovick and Mrs. Belyea for their help setting up for the Thanksgiving dinner.

-Many thanks to Katie Shook, Haley Jenkins, Sandra & Jim Goodman, Sylvia Astbury and Mica Lamothe for helping Lisa in the kitchen.

-And we were really grateful for those wonderful desserts prepared by Casey McGray, Jesse, Arianna, Nick, Dana and Ashley.
